

Freedom From Domination

Anarchy means “without rulers”.

Anarchists oppose the domination of any individual or group of individuals by another. We recognize the fundamental injustice and unsustainability of the present arrangement of the world, and we see solutions in liberty.

Realize a dream thousands of years in the making!

We can only have the world we seek if we work for it.

The dominant ideas which enable authority and oppression must be overturned in favor of liberty, solidarity, and consent.

In building liberty we unlock our potentials as humans - free and autonomous, creative and social. Networks of mutual aid and consensual trade help us live independently of, and in opposition to, those who would like to rule us.
