

BUILD A NEW WORLD IN THE SHELL OF THE OLD.

We are coerced by other people. This does not have to be. Coercion only disrupts life and holds back progress. We can free ourselves by thinking and acting revolutionary.

Think Direct Action – Bypass the rigged political system and instead organize the people to affect the changes you wish to see.

Think Market Based Alternatives – When economic activity is focused on undermining the state, entrepreneurial power can destroy the injustices of political power and privilege. “Counter-economics” involves bringing trade into the underground market where the state cannot easily control or exploit it.

Think Mutual Aid – Individuals cooperate for mutual gain and help each other with no centralized control. Looking out for each other is participatory insurance for a free world.

Think Civil Disobedience – Why do you have a conscience if you were not meant to use it? Whether confrontational or not, civil disobedience can help gain a little liberty now and a lot of liberty tomorrow.

Think Communication – Alternative media and information campaigns can bypass the press and go straight to the people, or exploit the press for liberty’s gain.

We can build a world where the rights of every individual to life, liberty, and justly acquired property are respected and upheld regardless of race, religion, trade, orientation, or geographical origin.

SEIZE YOUR LIBERTY - REVOLUTION BEGINS WITH YOU
